Community Health Workers (CHWs) are trusted members of your community who understand your needs and will serve as a link for you to health and social services.

A CHW will:

- meet with you at your convenience,
- help you set health goals,
- guide you through the health care system,
- link you to medical care for your specific needs (primary, dental, specialty, mental health, substance abuse treatment),
- help you manage your health conditions and prescriptions,
- help you reduce hospital and emergency room visits,
- link you to community services and resources (food, clothing, housing, financial and utility assistance, transportation, education, employment),
- and much more.

Ottawa Pathways to Better Health is a collaborative effort between hospitals, health care and human service agencies in Ottawa County.
